

PROJECT MANAGER

Palumbo Shipyards is looking for an Project Manager for the Naval Division.

DESCRIPTION: The resource will join the Technical and Operational division of Ship repair and maintenance, and will report to the Operation Manager, throughout the entire refitting process. Specifically he/she will assess and plan all the working activities from the moment of the project acquisition until the job delivery, including those that may show unexpected problems to be solved.

REQUIREMENTS: It's required a bachelor degree in Naval or Mechanical Engineering and a multi-year experience, with the same role in relevant field. It's required english level C1, plus an excellent knowledge of autocad and of the office package. The role demands analytical and management skills as well as leadership and problem solving.

PLACE OF WORK: MALTA/MESSINA/NAPLES

This job ad is addressed to any kind of genders. Candidates with the requested skills can send their application, expressing their consent to processing the personal data required by D.Lgs. 196/03 and modified by GDPR 679/2016.

The acquired data will be processed exclusively for the candidate selection. The candidate may at any time exercise the rights expected by the laws referred to.